THE MARK OF A NEW ERA

As early as the Case Brothers began making knives in upstate New York during the late 19th century, they were also methodically scrawling symbolic stamp designs into their blades. Many other American knife manufacturers also adopted similar practices.

We've since come to realize the critical value of these unique and historic marks. Collectively, they document a timeline that spans more than 130 years of knives that bear the Case name.

Many of the early Case tang stamps were used over time periods that varied widely from era to era. But that changed in 1970, when the company began stamping blades with a "dot dating" tang design that would span a decade of manufacturing. The annual removal of one of ten dots from the blade presses signaled the start of a new production year that collectors could recognize as new knives were released to dealer displays. Thus, it became possible to know the exact year in which each Case® knife was manufactured.

The year 2020 signals the beginning of another decade of Case knives, and with it comes a brand new tang stamp design - one that recalls the early use of the "ten-dot" dating system - and the 'CASE XX' marking that's become one of Case's most treasured hallmarks.

Join us in celebrating the mark of a new era for Case knives, and a look ahead to our future!

THE CASE® WINKLER PACK AXE

W.R. Case and Sons Cutlery Company and Daniel Winkler of Winkler Knives® have both served America's top tier military units to help bring about historic U.S. military achievements. So together they created the American Heroes line of tactical knives and tools, inviting real American Heroes to help forge each new product's introduction. The Case® Winkler Pack Axe is no exception, having been co-designed by Kevin Holland, a survival expert with more than 2,000 combat missions across the globe as a U.S. Navy Seal and an elite member of U.S. Army Special Operations.

Our newest collaboration is the Pack Axe-built for tough work and survival, with an exceptional design that begins and ends with a single 3/8-inch thick piece of 80CrV2 steel to resist the cracks and splinters you get with traditional wooden-handled axes. The Pack Axe features a hefty head with an edge that's sharp out of the box. The blunt end can be used as a mallet for pounding stakes or nails, tapping rocky terrain and taking on small scale demolition. Durable canvas laminate grips and a tapered, skeletonized handle promote better balance for more accurate in-hand strikes that can cut deep. A paracord wrap offers extra utility whenever you need it. Reinforced ballistic nylon straps attach to the custom head guard for belt carrying. You can even hang the axe around the campsite by using the hexagon-shaped hole at the knob whenever you're on break. The Case® Winkler Pack Axe cuts through the challenges of outdoor survival!

CASE® ASTRONAUT KNIFE M-1

From its inception in 1958, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) was devoted to research, educating and enhancing life here on earth. NASA has impacted the lives of millions, not just by providing research about space, but also sharing their pioneering inventions in which we use and see in our everyday lives.

NASA has often reached out to different organizations during projects to help create and invent custom-made tools. When military knives did not meet NASA's criteria, the organization commissioned Case to create a knife to their exact specifications that would equip every manned US space flight of the Gemini and Apollo missions. This Astronaut Knife was lightweight with a sharp cutting edge and saw teeth on the back side. The blunt base of the blade was able to pry and gather specimens (such as moon rocks) from the Celestial terrains. The handle was made of polypropylene, a material able to withstand impact by a forty-five caliber bullet. This synthetic material's properties helped to ensure the purity of the air in the spacecraft.

CASE® V-42

Born of wartime necessity and proven on the battlefields of World War II, the Case V-42 is the stuff of legend. First conceived in 1942, the knife's design is attributed to then Lieutenant Colonel Robert T. Frederick. In honor of the legacy of the First Special Service Force, Case is proud of the 'faithfully true' reproduction of the classic original, patterned after the company's own museum piece. The tang stamp on the re-created Case V-42 reads CASE on one side, V-42 USA on the other. Even the accompanying leather sheath is completed according to the original World War II-era requirements.

CASE® BESH WEDGE

The Case® BESH Wedge was designed by Brent Beshara, and inspired by Case's V-42 of World War II fame. This revolutionary knife blends modern technology with optimal performance and utility. It offers a unique blade design, composed of two diagonally opposed bevels that converge to form a third cutting edge. The blade geometry provides a stronger point profile that overcomes the tip weakness found in more conventional blades. Well balanced for a comfortable, responsive feel – The Case® BESH Wedge is ready to serve.

HOW TO IDENTIFY A CASE KNIFE

The number stamped on the tang of one blade of every Case knife identifies the pattern. The first number is the handle material, the second number is the number of blades, and the rest is the factory pattern number. In the example below, 6318 is a #18 factory pattern knife with a jigged bone handle and three blades.

ANATOMY OF A CASE KNIFE

Hand-crafting a Case knife is an exercise in skill, focus, and, most importantly, patience. Roughly 160 steps go into the creation of each knife, from the handle to the blade to everything in between. To us, the process is just as important as using the finest components in the world, like rich, natural handle materials, premium-quality steel, select brass and superior nickel silver.

DETERMINE THE YEAR OF A CASE KNIFE

In 1970, Case added ten dots beneath the U.S.A. on all knife tangs. Each year a dot was removed.

The same dating system was used during the 1980s. The differences are the "lightning" form of the letter S in Case and USA and the fact that the dots were put above the USA.

From 1990 to mid-1993, the actual date was stamped on the tang.

The dot system was used again from mid-1993 through 1999.

In 2000, Case introduced a new tang date stamp: five Xs and five dots. From 2000 through 2005, one dot was removed each year. From 2006 through 2009, an X was removed each year.

The 2010 Tang Stamp design again features five Xs and five dots. From 2010 through 2015, one dot was removed for each year. From 2016 through 2019, an X is removed each year.

THE CASE TANG STAMP

It's been said that every Case knife tells a story. That story begins with the unique blade marking, or tang stamp applied to every Case knife, indicating its date of production. Case has used various tang stamps throughout its history, making it one of the world's most collected knife brands over time. We think you'll agree that now is the perfect time to add a new Case knife to your personal history.
